I make this request not only in my own behalf, but for the benefit of the auctioneers and the other coin dealers.

Any information concerning the coins, etc., will be promptly and cheerfully given.

Thick paper catalogues of this sale may be had on application at 25 cts. each, and after the sale copies may be had neatly priced in red ink for $1.25 each.

COPPERHEADS—MONEY OF NECESSITY.

Many will remember that during the early days of the late war of the rebellion, owing to the limited supply of small change, for some time after the beginning of 1862 we were reduced to great want for our want thereof: this want was supplied by the business community by the production by different individuals of an immense variety of fractional bills, in denominations varying from 1¢ to 10¢ each: also by an enormous emission of the Tokens referred to, commonly known as Copperheads. In this issue New York and several Western cities took the lead, and small legitimate money soon became almost unknown, thus giving place to a genuine coinage of value of Necessity. These Tokens and small bills were totally untheorized and frequently with no responsibility behind them; but the Government soon remedied what was at first a great inconvenience but had become no less than a nuisance, by an abundant supply of minor Gold and Fractional Currency. This latter became so good a convenience that the total trade of the country would had it been pursued with pleasure.

Amongst the collectors of these interesting coins, Mr. Lerrick was one of the earliest in the field. Not satisfied with pieces from circulation, he took the greatest pains to procure from the makers the selected specimens in all the different metals, including especially silver and nickel. Although Mr. Lerrick's collection proper was sold in May, 1884, the owner reserved many of the finest examples, comprising a vast variety, all of which are now offered for sale. Amongst these will be found silver, copper, brass, nickel, iron, and lead. The lots are selected with reference to metal and condition. Duplicates are liable to be found in any lot, and no one lot duplicates another. Tokens with milled edges were all struck proof; they were made to order, and sent in quantity like such, and it is not probable that a dozen can be found outside of two or three prominent collections.

- 90 Copperheads; coppery, red, unrec. 50 pieces.
- 91 Another lot: same quality, many with head of Washington; copper. 50 pieces.
- 92 Another lot: copper, equally fine. 50 pieces.

some Providence, with head of Burnside, scarce lot.
40 pieces.
- 127 Another lot : similar in metals and quality to preceding.
52 pieces.

It seems an anomaly to call a coin a copperhead when struck in any other metal than copper, but it will be borne in mind that the term, as applied, had a significance rather political than numismatic. The following 23 lots are all struck in brass. Nos. 128 and 129 have milled edges, and struck proof, and all are extremely rare.

- 128 Copperheads ; brass, milled. 50 pieces.

- 129 Copperheads; in quality and materials like the last.
50 pieces.
- 130 Copperheads; brass, bright, many proof, rare. 50 pieces.

- 141 Copperheads; brass, equally fine. 40 pieces.
- 142 Copperheads; brass, equally fine. 40 pieces.
- 143 Copperheads; brass, equally fine. 40 pieces.
- 144 Copperheads; brass, equally fine. 40 pieces.
- 145 Similar lot; equally good. 40 pieces.

- 149 Another lot; same quality. 40 pieces.
- 150 Another lot; same quality. 40 pieces.

The following, to No. 167 inclusive, are all struck in nickel; many have buffed edges and many are proofs; few were struck in this metal, and all in unalloyed condition are very scarce.

- 151 Copperheads; nickel, mostly proofs. 40 pieces.
- 152 Another lot; equally fine. 40 pieces.
- 153 Another lot of the same quality. 40 pieces.
- 154 Another lot; same quality. 40 pieces.
- 155 Copperheads of light nickel; many proofs. 40 pieces.
- 156 Copperheads; another lot; same metal and quality.
40 pieces.
- 157 Copperheads; equally fine. 40 pieces.
- 158 Another equally fine lot. 40 pieces.
- 159 Another lot; equally fine. 40 pieces.
- 160 Another lot; same quality. 40 pieces.
- 161 Another lot; same quality. 40 pieces.
- 162 Copperheads; same material and condition as the preceding. 40 pieces.

- 163 Another lot ; equally fine. 40 pieces.
- 164 Another lot ; all nickel ; equally fine. 40 pieces.
- 165 Copperheads ; all nickel ; equally fine. 40 pieces.
- 166 Similar lot ; equally fine. 17 pieces.
- 167 Copperheads ; all struck proof, with milled edges. The finest lot in the collection. 32 pieces.

All the following, to No. 182 inclusive, are struck in tin, and all are bright and uncirculated ; owing to its unfitness as a circulating medium the material was seldom used, and the few that are occasionally found are almost invariably ruined by circulation. To find another collection approaching this, either in quality or quantity, would be utterly impossible.

- 168 Copperheads ; tin, many proofs. 30 pieces.
- 169 Copperheads ; tin, same quality. 40 pieces.
- 170 Another lot ; tin, equally fine. 40 pieces.
- 171 Another lot ; tin, equally fine. 40 pieces.

- 175 Same quality. 40 pieces.
- 176 Others ; the same. 40 pieces.
- 177 Another lot ; same quality. 40 pieces.
- 178 Others ; equally fine. 40 pieces.
- 179 Others equally fine. 40 pieces.
- 180 Others ; same quality. 40 pieces.
- 181 Another lot ; the same. 40 pieces.
- 182 Another lot ; various ; equally fine. 13 pieces.

A COLLECTION OF COPPERHEADS IN SILVER.

- 183 For an obvious reason these pieces were never struck in silver, except for cabinet specimens. The following were made expressly for Mr. Levick, and were formerly in his collection. Many of them are struck over dimes, hence the planchets cost at least 10 cents each. A large number of them are thick, and of extra weight, and all were struck with extra care. The owner knows of no other collection of equal magnitude. As it would be a pity to break up the set, they will be sold together. In silver these pieces are extra rare. 64 pieces.

DIMES.

Mr. Matthews early turned his attention particularly to the Dimes and Half Dimes of the United States series, with a determination to possess the finest set of these coins that could possibly be procured. His success in this endeavor is sufficiently attested by his collection, described in the following numbers; the Dimes, as may be seen, are fine, but on the Half Dimes he particularly prided himself, some of which indeed can scarcely be surpassed.

- 801 1796 Fine, very little circulated, hair and feathers perfect, trifling scratch on the obverse, rare so fine.
- 802 1796 Different die; very good, rare.
- 803 1796 Broken die; good, very scarce.
- 804 1796 Electrotpe, solid silver, from one of the finest known.
- 805 1798 Fine, very rare.
- 806 1800 Very fine indeed, rarest of the dimes excepting 1804.
- 807 1800 Has been pierced and filled, otherwise fair, very rare.
- 808 1801 When struck a little wire seems to have laid across the planchet on the obv. side: at that point a slight curved depression exists, but the piece is barely circulated and extremely fine, rare.
- 809 1801 Worn, but still fair, the date is perfect, rare.
- 810 1802 Barely circulated, rare.
- 811 1803 Fine, very little circulated, scarce.
- 811a 1804 Very good, may almost be described as fine for the date; every portion legible and distinct, the date particularly so: the rarest of the dimes.
- 812 1805 Very fine indeed, touched by circulation only in the slightest degree if at all.
- 813 1805 Stars flattened, still very good, almost fine, scarce.

HALF DIMES.

- 897 1794 Brilliant proof impression, extremely rare. From the celebrated Hartford find, all of which it is believed have passed into the hands of collectors.
- 898 1794 Perforated above the head, with this exception good, very rare.
- 899 1795 In quality almost matches the '94. This is from the Res board, discovered in Roxbury, portion of a birthday present kept from its date to about 1870; a band so slight as to be almost imperceptible can be seen on the obverse; in this condition as rare as 1794.
- 900 1795 No. 1. Perfect die; would be fine but for a little perforation, rare.
- 901 1795 Brilliant, uncirculated, one of the finest known.
- 902 1797 Fifteen stars; very fine indeed, in quality about matches the last, extremely rare.

- 904 1800 Uncirculated, one of the finest examples in the series, very rare.
- 905 1801 Unusually fine for this date, very rare.
- 906 1802 Obverse, every part is distinct, is in Liberty and the lower stars back of the head are faint; on the reverse a portion of the legend is indistinct, the rest fairly legible; the obverse of this coin is certainly fair, the reverse not so good, still in the main distinct, considering its excessive rarity; it is guaranteed genuine, and cost the owner about $150.
- 907 1803 Scarcely any circulated, very fine indeed, and worthy to form a part of this set of half dimes.
- 908 1805 Brilliant, uncirculated, in condition the obverse is scarce less than a proof, the reverse nearly so fine. I believe it is the best example known, except Mr. Randall's specimen, which I sold in his sale No. 795, for $65; this is but little inferior to that; extremely rare.

MINOR COINS SELECTED FOR DEALERS.

The minor coinage, seemingly without reason, unless it is that the pieces are all cheap and easily procured, have been neglected by dealers, so that it has become almost impossible to obtain the early uncirculated color, except in proof condition, and the rarity of a number of these is very observable,—notably the proof sets of 1877,—the three pieces usually selling for $5 and upwards, and all dates have become rare by 1881. Of these few priced coins Mr. Harbald was the only one so far as I know, who had the forethought to lay in a large supply. That supply is not only reduced, but nearly extinguished, and the following list comprises all remaining, with very few exceptions.

LOTS SELECTED FOR DEALERS.

The following Cents comprise the entire stock selected by Mr. Randall for his retail trade. They are of every quality, running from poor to bright uncirculated. Of the latter there are many, and amongst the various dates will be found numerous examples worthy to be placed in good cabinets. Mr. Randall did not make a specialty of Cents, as he did of silver and gold. Nevertheless he was usually able to supply good examples from the stock which he always kept on hand. All were included in my purchase of his stock and collections, and all remaining are now offered to collectors and the trade. Such an opportunity to purchase Cents for stock, ranging in quality from poor and fair to very fine, is seldom presented to the dealer.

 1564 1817 Bright red, uncirculated, rare. 8 pieces.

The uncirculated red Cents for 1816 to 1820 which a few years ago could be found without difficulty, seem to have passed out of the hands of dealers, and to have become very rare. I know of none to be obtained with the exception of the few comprised in this catalogue. Several of the dates which now command from $5 to $10 readily, were easily obtained within a short time for a few cents each, and seldom commanded so much as $1.00. The bright 1796 and 1797 which now bring readily $20 and upwards, were distributed freely without price: and, when sold, the price was little more than nominal. Long since I commenced the business, these Cents were offered me, a bag full at a time, for $1 00 each. Thinking the price too great, I declined the purchase, though I afterwards bought all that could be obtained. All the early bright Cents are rapidly becoming equally rare, and it will be but a short time before they will command as many dollars each as they now do cents.

It will be borne in mind that the bright red coins in the '50's, which were quite common till about 1856, are now so scarce that they are obtained only with difficulty. A very few dealers possess the whole stock, and every coin sale in which they are offered only adds to the scarcity.

WASHINGTON PIECES.

This fine and interesting series has of late fallen into unmerited neglect, but the publication of Mr. W. S. Baker's admirable work, "The Medallie Portraits of Washington," seems to have revived the interest in the series. The book describes no less than six hundred and fifty-one distinct varieties of Washington coins and medals. It is simply indispensable to the collector, and its perfection and accuracy is such that it leaves little to be desired in this specialty. All of these pieces, except in the Season Medals, bear a portrait of Washington, mostly after the Houdon bust.

- 1773 1791 Washington Cent. Military bust; rev., eagle and shield, "One cent" above, lettered edge; bronze, nearly proof, scarce.
- 1774 1791 Like the last; worn, and has a slight perforation.
- 1775 1792 Washington Cent. Bust, hair in a queue: rev., upright eagle holding an inscribed scroll, above the head a single star and over it a curved line of twelve stars; in good condition and excessively rare; in this particular surpasses any of the Washington cents, except the naked bust, one of which I have within a few days sold for $100.
- 1776 North Wales Halfpenny. Bust to left, Georgius Washington; rev., a crowned harp; not fine, but very good and very rare.
- 1777 Military bust; rev., a grate. "London, 1795"; bronze, good, scarce.
- 1778 Bust to left; rev., shield surmounted by an eagle, "Liberty and Security, 1795"; edge lettered, "Payable at London, Liverpool or Bristol"; copper, fine, scarce.

- 1779 Irish Halfpenny. Hope standing, 1795; rev., from the same die as the last, 1793; copper, fine, rare.
- 1780 Double-head Washington; copper, barely circulated, rare.
- 1781 Duplicate of the last; fine, scarce.
- 1782 Liverpool Halfpenny, 1793. Bust; rev., a ship; copper, fine, scarce.
- 1783 Washington and Independence, 1783. Bust; rev., Liberty seated; copper, proof, edge engraved; from English dies.
- 1784 Bust; rev., sun with stars intermediate to the rays; brass, fine, has slight perforation as all had. Struck to wear on the occasion of the Washington inauguration ceremonies in Boston. See 15.
- 1785 Duplicate of the last, from the same dies; much finer, scarce.
- 1786 The Westwood Medal. Military bust to right; rev., "With Courage and Fidelity," etc.; bronze, splendid fire-gilt, rare. 26.
- 1787 Hero of Freedom Medal. Bust; rev., "Hero of Freedom, pride of his country," etc.; worn, but good and rare, bronze-gilt. 22.
- 1788 Memorial Medal of the Washington Cabinet. Portrait to right; rev., a cabinet surmounted by a bust; bronze, nearly proof. 33.
- 1789 Robinson's Washington Cent. Bust; rev., large eagle and shield; bronze, fine. 29.
- 1790 Medal of the Washington Benevolent Society, N. Y., 1808. Liberty crowning the bust of Washington; rev., view of the good Samaritan attending a sick man; silver, proof, baymarked, rare. 27.
- 1791 The Seaman Medals. This series consists of three medals; they are occasionally found in silver and in bronze. The only perfect set I have ever seen I sold in Mr. McCoy's collection to Mr. Lightbody for $900. The first represents a man sowing grain, another man with team ploughing in the distance; rev., within a wreath, "Second Presidency of Geo. Washington, MDCCXCVI"; original; bronze, very fine. 22.
- Another. Interior view of an old-fashioned kitchen; a woman spinning on a little wheel; a beam in the back ground; to the left a baby in a cradle; rev., like the last; bronze; original, very good.

- Third. The last of the series; a cottage and landscape; to the right a shepherd tending sheep, to the left a cow and calf; rev., like the last; perfect, silver-plated electrotpe, made by Mr. Crosby, whose work is never surpassed. The three will be sold as a set. The preceding remarks sufficiently indicate their rarity.
- 1792 Season medal; of the variety first described; like the last a superb silver-plated electrotpe.
- 1793 The Halliday Medal; of the same design as the better known Sansom Medal. Military bust; rev., sword, fasces, etc. The original is one of the rarest of the Washington Medals. This is a fine copper electrotpe, and the electrotypes are rare. 34.
- 1794 The Sansom Medal; of the large size, design resembles the last; bronze, nearly proof. The large Sansom Medals are rare. 28.
- 1795 The Sansom Medal; small size; bronze, original. 25.

- 1801 The Fame Medal. Bust with aged features, to right; rev., Fame flying over land and sea; copper electrotpe, perfect, fine as an original. 24.
- 1802 The Japanese Embassy Medal. Bust; rev., "To the Japanese Embassy." etc.; tin, very fine. 34.
- 1803 Medal of the Philadelphia Centennial of Washington's birthday; original; almost proof impression in silver. These medals are still struck, but originals are rare. 24.
- 1804 The same; tin, proof, shows break in the rev. die. 24.
- 1805 The same; copper, nearly proof, shows the break. 24.

- 1809 Washington; rev., Liberty seated; very good.
- 1810 Another, with large bust; fair.

- This most rare and interesting memorial of Washington appeared first in the Mickley sale, and this, I think, is the only one that has been seen since.
- 1844 Bust to right; rev., headquarters at Newburg; splendid bronze proof. 17.
- 1845 Time increases his fame; copper, fine. 17.

- 1846 A five-pointed star on a silver planchet; on the center a small eagle; from the same hole, apparently, as the one mentioned under No. 1845; in the angle of the star, G. W. B., 18-48; rev., plain. This piece is obviously of the same workmanship and a mate to No. 1845. So far as I know no other has ever appeared. Very fine. 16.

MEDALS.

More or less relating to American History.

Silver, proof: rare. 20.
- 2060 The Netherlands, standing, supporting Liberty cap and rod of Mercury, an entrenched camp in the background; rev., the flags of Holland and United States; bales of merchandise; a vessel in the background; "The universal wish" (Dutch), 1782. Silver, proof: extremely rare. 22.

- 2064 Another Doggersbank Medal: two full rigged ships in action; rev., insc. in Dutch in 8 lines; silver, perfect, rare. 19.

The several presenting medals are all of the rare Dutch-American series. I think they are all described by Van Linné. But they were first comparatively brought to the attention of American collectors through no report, rather made by me from Holland. For all of the preceding, the one Charles L. Bushnell paid me $1000. While they are no longer so rare as indicated by the price mentioned, they are certainly among the very finest of American Revolutionary Medals, and it is by no means probable that one hundred examples of all the single medals in the aggregate now exist. They are without exception of highly artistic workmanship.

- 2065 Medal of Charles Carroll, of Carrollton; rev., "Upon entering his 90th year, Sept. XX, MDCCLXXVI." "The surviving signer of the Declaration of Independence, after the 90th anniversary." A splendid silver proof; the dies by C. C. Wright; original and genuine; a subscriber's copy in monocoque gilt, velvet lined case, as received from the artist; extremely rare. 32.

- 2077 Canadian Temperance Society Medal : rev., the Holy Family ; tin, proof. 26.
- 2078 Bunker-hill Medal ; view of the death of Warren, June 17, 1775 ; rev., the monument surrounded by clouds and sun's rays ; "Success to the Fair, Sept. 8, 1840" ; dies by Mitchell ; copper, fine, original, rare. 27.

- 2089 Bust to right: "General Lafayette"; rev., a wreath, "Défenseur de la Liberté en Amer. 1777, en France 1789, et 1830, Revue du 8 Août, 1830." This medal, many years ago in the possession of Mr. Holland, was declared by him to be unique. Since his sale, in 1878, no other has appeared. It is undoubtedly of great rarity; 00, fine. 30.

In this first lot will be found most of those known as of the Hard Times period of 1837 or thereabouts; there are few if any duplicates; all are originals, and they are with few exceptions fine, and many are known to be rare. Want of space forbids any detailed description or even mention of the varieties; they are mostly of red cent size or larger, and in all the various metals in which they usually issue. 189 pieces.
- 2167 Another collection of Store Cards. Nearly thirty years ago several New York gentlemen discovered in the hands of the Scoville Manufacturing Company of Waterbury, Conn., a large number of the dies of various business cards, nearly all of the Hard Times period, and many of which had become excessively rare; they caused a large number of these cards to be restruck from the original dies, and nearly all of the following are of that issue: they are in various metals, and are mostly in bright and perfect condition; many are proofs. The lot is selected with the view of avoiding duplicates; more or less will no doubt be found, but the number is small. A most desirable lot. 355 pieces.

This rare and valuable piece, though it has a money value, is well never to be used as money. It is really a valuable report of the operations of the Japanese mint during a given period, and distributed only to the great magnates of the government. It is not known to be found in Japan in the hands of private persons, unless some well-known one is offered for sale, it is valued at from \$100 to \$200. Finely finished, and bears on one side, in cavo-relievo, four large Japanese characters; on the opposite side, seven characters: in the centre a square hole of  $\frac{1}{2}$  in. It is at least doubtful if another sample can be found in America.

THE NEXT SALE OF THIS SERIES No. 81,

Will comprise an important library, especially rich in Numismatics and Archaeology. In the former department many volumes that are seldom seen, and some that have never been offered here at auction. In archaeology, will be found the principal works of Sir John Lubbock, and of various European writers, including Nilsson, Evans, Stevens, Waitz, Broca, Voght, Pouchet, Gastaldi, etc.

In the American portion will be found a full set of the Reports of the Smithsonian Institution, beginning with the 4th and ending with the last. The rare volumes of the Smithsonian Contributions to Knowledge, Aboriginal Monuments of the State of New York, by E. G. Squier; Archaeology of the United States, by Samuel F. Haven; and, perhaps, the rarest of the whole series, Ancient Monuments of the Mississippi Valley, by E. G. Squier and E. H. Davis, as well as the works of Abbott, Short, Foster, Jones, Maclean, Sonthall, Schoolcraft, and others. Passing without notice several interesting features in this collection of books, it may be mentioned that it comprises an unusual number of early N. E. imprints of an Historical character, notably, the works of the early writers on the Indian Wars in New England; among others original copies of Penhallow's, Church's, and the Mathers' Works, concerning these early wars, together with an unusually large number of volumes by the Mathers, running in dates from 1669 to 1721. Nearly all of these rare volumes are fine, perfect copies, and their rarity can hardly be overrated. The sale will take place as soon as the catalogue can be got ready, at the rooms of Messrs. Bangs & Co., 739 and 741 Broadway, New York City.

The auctioneers will distribute catalogues and receive and execute orders for the sale for librarians and private buyers.
